

KEYNOTE SPEAKER

Greg Salciccioli

Greg enjoys people and loves to see them grow. His whole life is dedicated to coaching people to be spiritually strong, emotionally intelligent, relationally connected and physically healthy. He believes that optimum health leads to effective leadership because people are living and leading by example. The Apostle Paul challenged Pastor Timothy to lead by example in 1 Timothy 4:12: "set the believers an example in speech, in conduct, in love, in faith, in purity." An exemplary life ensures the ministry has integrity and impact. Exemplary living is Greg's core conviction and his primary pursuit.

In the past 8 years Greg has been privileged to coach hundreds of business and ministry leaders in life planning, vision development, team building, strategic growth and priority management. Personal coaching is transformational for people and is becoming the new management method for organizations.

Greg married his college sweetheart, Dianna, after graduating from Vanguard University with a degree in Biblical Studies with a minor in Sociology and Psychology. They have two boys, Nate (23) and David (20). They love to play in the Cascade Mountains of Central Oregon and enjoy time with their staff, family and friends.

Greg has co-founded Ministry Coaching International, an organization committed to transforming the lives of pastors, businessmen and lay leaders in Central Oregon and throughout the country. You can get more information about Greg's organization at www.ministrycoaching.org.
